

Ducklings

Penguins

Learning Log Week beginning 10th September 2018

Welcome to our weekly learning logs. We will send these out by email every Friday afternoon to inform you of all the fun and learning your child has discovered during the week.

The children have settled extremely well and we are so pleased to see smiling faces in the morning ready to learn! We have already been exploring some areas of learning including simple numbers and phase I sounds. We have been doing lots of sharing and turn taking which have been helping to build some lovely friendships.. We have also been on a tour around the school where we visited Julie and Jenny in the office, Mrs Cowcher in her office and explored the school hall. On Thursday, we had a story in the library!

Please visit our website or our blog calmoreinfantsblog.co.uk for more information and news!

Sound Group

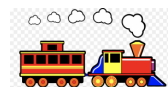

On Tuesday we introduced the children to learning some phase I sounds in preparation for their phonics teaching. The children did extremely well remembering these and impressed the teachers with their hunger to learn more sounds!

'weeee'

'shhhh'

'chchchchch'

A challenge the children had to complete this week was to create their own handprints! The children selected their colour (or colours) and painted their hand ready to print on paper. The handprints will be used to become 'helping hands' where children will be chosen to help with certain jobs such as taking the register to the office.

Reminders

Please can we remind you to ensure your child has a P.E kit in school next week as we will start to change for P.E. We are really excited to see and share the 'All About Me' books in the upcoming weeks so please ensure your child's book is ready to share by the end of next week. Thank you very much for those handed in already, they are fantastic and we have loved looking at them. Please remember children that have been attending school in the morning will be staying for lunch on Monday 17th and children that have been attending in the afternoon will be joining us for lunch on the 18th. All children have the option to start full time as from Wednesday 19th September.

